BELMONT WINS TWO

Okenite and Queen's Souvenir Finish in Front.

UPSET IN THE STEEPLECHASE

Lysistrata's Showing So Bad That Stewards Make an Investigation. Explanation of Owner and Rider Is Accepted—Workman Scores His Third Victory of the Meeting.

August Belmont had an inning at Benning yesterday. He had only two entries, but he won with both of them. Okenite was his first winner, and he followed that with a victory with another when his little black filly, Queen's Souvenir, who won on the second day of the meeting at odds of 20 to 1, came right back and beat the Columbia Stable's Lady Isabel, who has been regarded by some horsemen as the best two-year-old that has been shown at the Benning track this spring.

Queen's Souvenir gave an admirable exhibition of gameness. She looked to be beaten a furlong from home, when Johnson drove her forward and John Lady Isabel, who had been in the lead, hit Johnson found he had a willing horse under him and he drove her for all she was worth. Inch by inch she crawled up on Lady Isabel, and just before the wire was reached she had poked her head in front, and she kept it there. Little Goldstein, on Lady Isabel, could not help his mount a particle, or there might have been a different result. It is pretty good betting, however, that if the two meet again Queen's Souvenir will again be the favorite, and that she will win.

The third race furnished another exciting finish when Jupiter just squeaked home a short head in front of Bowling Bridge. This was another case of incompetency, for with riders reversed Bowling Bridge could hardly have lost.

Cold weather again caused the spectators to move about in order to keep warm. Two favorites, a heavily piled second choice, and three outsiders showed the record for the afternoon, but Okenite carried probably as much money as Oxford in the opening race, it is probable the public broke even with the layers.

Stewards Get Busy.

The steeplechase furnished a big surprise and, incidentally, was the cause of an investigation. J. W. Colt's Lysistrata was a natural favorite, but after setting the pace to the stretch she stopped and allowed the 25-to-1 shot, Rocket, to beat her. The stewards apparently did not make a move on Lysistrata after she had taken the last fence, and did not go to the whip. The stewards at once called him to the stand, and later Mr. Colt was sent for. Mr. Colt explained that Lysistrata was a heavy-headed mare; but this could hardly account for the horse's poor showing. Mr. Colt's explanation was accepted by the stewards.

Oxford opened favorite in the first, with Okenite at 5 to 1, but the ring was swamped with money on the latter, and his price quickly fell to two, making him equal favorite with the gray. Berkeley and Golf Ball were next in demand. Platform was pacesetter to the turn for home, with Oxford running in second place, and Okenite next to last. Once in the stretch, Johnson sent Okenite along on the outside, and the Belmont three-year-old responded gamely to urging, passed Oxford, and won cleverly, while Oxford was an easy second before Platform.

Good Field in Second.

Seven of the best two-year-olds that have shown at the meeting went to the post in the second, with August Belmont's Queen's Souvenir an 8-to-5 favorite. Dead Gosh, Lady Isabel, and Giles were equally fancied of the ring. There was some play on Gasson, G. O. P. was practically left at the post at the start, with Dead Gosh the first to show. Madden's colt made the pace to the stretch, with Lady Isabel lying second, Souvenir third, and Giles fourth. Straightened out in the stretch, Souvenir, on the rail, and Lady Isabel passed Dead Gosh and the two had a desperate struggle to the wire. Queen's Souvenir ran true and game, and just beat Lady Isabel by a head. Giles passed Dead Gosh in the last few strides and took third.

The third was a cheap selling race at six and a half furlongs, for which Markman was made favorite on the strength of his record. Gasson's effort made him a strong second choice, with Lone Hand next in demand, Jupiter at sixes, Lone Hand, Old Guard, and Bowling Bridge ran in close quarters to the stretch, when Jupiter came up on the rail. The race became a duel between Jupiter and Bowling Bridge, and the former, ridden better than the latter, got to the wire a head to the good. Markman, who was away with an effort in the first, was striving the limit to save second place from Bucket Brigade.

Butter Sir proved easily best of a flock of two-year-olds, who started in the half-mile dash, and racing 1. Ham, the odds-on favorite, off his feet in the first half mile, drew away with an effort in the second. 1. Ham was striving the limit to save second place from Bucket Brigade.
